

Thomas M. Murnane is a retired consulting Partner from PricewaterhouseCoopers (PwC), where he held several high-level global and national strategic consulting positions. His clients included the senior management of many large retail chains and their vendors. Murnane ended his career at PwC as Global Director of Marketing and Brand Management for the Firm's expansive consulting business, and sat on the Global Executive Committee.

Since his retirement from PwC, Murnane has served on the boards of directors of several publicly-traded and privately-held companies and not-for-profit organizations. In addition, he has continued his consulting activities through his own boutique firm, ARC Business Advisors.

Murnane grew up in Columbus, Ohio and attended The Ohio State University, where he earned both undergraduate (BSBA) and graduate (MBA) degrees in business administration. He currently resides in Agoura Hills, with his wife, Kandy. Murnane has served on the Board of Goodwill Southern California since 2013. Prior to becoming Chairman, he co-chaired the Retail Committee for several years, and served as a member of several other standing Committees of the Board.